Achievement

Life and Laughter

E VANSVILLE COLLEGE no longer is the casual and care-free place we knew three years ago. The learning, achievement, and even life and laughter of the College are today linked together by their common striving for the rights of the individual, for security, for freedom.

Today our learning, of necessity, must mean adapting ourselves to whatever comes — to grasp, evaluate, and judge. Achievement denotes not merely prestige and honor, but to what extent the true worth of the person has been developed. No longer does our life center around the latest records or the newest styles. We realize that these things are freedom, but we cannot forget that the life and laughter we do enjoy comes in the absence of some of our fellow students.

Beauty of Our Campus

Tomorrow . . .

The success of the present Development Program will result in an engineering and science building, a gymnasium, student union and library, residence halls, a chapel, music hall, and auditorium, a new power and heating plant, tennis courts, drives, etc.

A Step Forward

. . . in the realization of a dream in the not-too-distant future of Evansville College was made this past school year of 1944-45. Not only were detailed plans made, but something more tangible was accomplished, for on November 24, 1944, the cornerstone of the Engineering and Science Building was laid. Above the screaming of diving P-47 fighter planes and the drone of slower army trainers, Dr. E. L. Hutchens, acting president of the Board of Trustees, dedicated this cornerstone in an impressive ceremony which was broadcast over the radio directly from the campus. The students then broke the first soil for the building foundation with the beribboned plow. The stone was laid by Dr. Hale and the Board of Trustees, and the plate was screwed into place by student sponsor, Peggy Treat. A small stone, perhaps, but it represents a big step taken.

Men of foresight have long realized the need for a college expansion program, but until just two years ago nothing was done about it. There has been a great demand for further home educational opportunities in order that the young people would not be compelled to seek their training and bestow its benefits elsewhere. Now the college is small because the war has taken so many young men, but at its present size Evansville College will not be able to provide for all who would wish to enroll after the war, nor will it be able to offer them the necessary educational and social opportunities. The citizens of our community have seen this, partly through the unveiling efforts of President Hale, and therefore the Development Program Committee was organized, headed by R. D. Mathias, W. A. Carson, and Louis Ruthenburg.

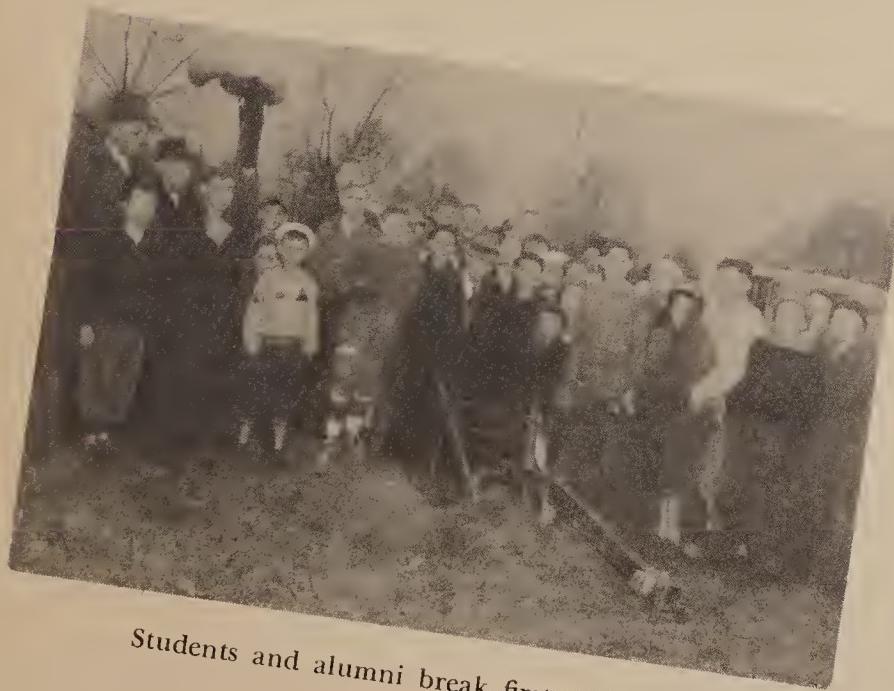

The program plans are well under way. The first building to be constructed will be the Engineering and Science Building, and the $300,000 needed is already in hand. Following this will be the Student Union, to which students and alumni have already subscribed more than one third of the cost, and a gymnasium of which we are so greatly in need.

And thus Evansville College plans and builds today to meet the demands of the postwar world tomorrow.

President Lincoln B. Hale

President Lincoln B. Hale arrived at Evansville College in 1939 after leaving Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., where he served as director of personnel and placement services from 1936-1939. Upon coming to Evansville College he was made dean and registrar, and in May, 1940, he became acting president, holding this office until June, 1941, when he was made president.

After receiving his B.D., M.A., Ph.D., at Yale University, Dr. Hale lived in Salonica, Greece, from 1927 until 1930 where he was the assistant director of Thessalonica Agriculture and Industrial Institute. He is an ordained minister and from 1930 until 1934 he filled the pastorate of Oxford Congregational Church, Oxford, Connecticut.

Since he has been in Evansville, Dr. Hale has become one of its outstanding citizens. Serving as president of the 1943-44 War Chest, the campaign was an overwhelming success. He is a member also of the American Legion, the Evansville Rotary Club, and Pi Gamma Mu.

Not only has President Hale been a leader in community life, but he has projected into the minds of Evansville citizens a new awareness of Evansville College. It is largely through his initiative and untiring efforts that the college development program has progressed so swiftly. Evansville College acknowledges his competence and leadership: Evansville College owes him unbounded praise and gratitude.

Board of Trustees

Lt. Comdr. Richard McGinnis, president of the Board of Trustees, is at present serving in the Navy.

The Board of Trustees is one of the governing bodies of Evansville College.

Before any final action is taken for the betterment of Evansville College, it must be approved by the Board of Trustees. The board is composed of outstanding citizens of Evansville, Indianapolis, and several other neighboring towns. The board authorizes actions to be taken by the president and various other committees, and also gives approval regarding the granting of leaves, admission, and dismissal of any faculty member.

Faculty and Students

Dan
Padgett

Let's take a look at our faculty

Edgar M. McKown, Dean of the College, philosophizes on the ethics of walking to school.

G. R. McCoy, Registrar, seated at his desk, is constantly plagued by students who want to know, "Does Mary have a class this period?" or "Have I got a grade in my Incomplete yet?"

Emily Wilson and Lucile Jones, instructor in art and professor of education respectively, teach teachers to teach art and sundry subjects.

George Lewis, Assistant Professor of History, tells all his students they have a choice of how to accept historical facts — how they really happened.

Lincoln B. Hale, President of the College, stops just one moment in one of his busy, busy days.

Anna Louise Thrall, Librarian, says, "If you want it, we've got it."

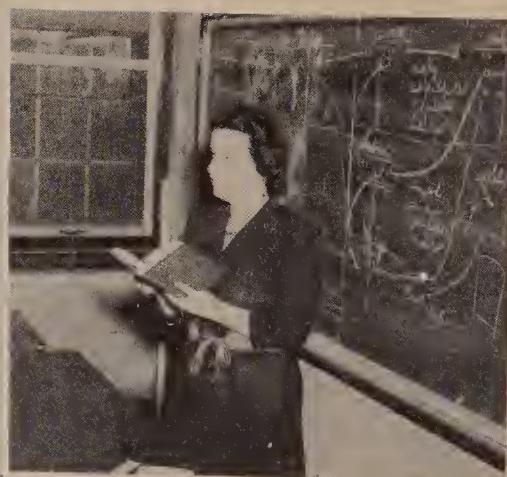

Pearle LeCompte, Assistant Professor of Speech, rushes to class holding the bag.

Dean Long, Professor of Economics, is short on Iowa corn, but is Long on Evening College propaganda.

Charles B. Vance, Professor of Physics, stands nonchalantly by his office door with that "come into my office, I want to have a talk with you" look in his eye.

Gertrude Leich, Instructor in Spanish, gets priorities on all the fellows who come up from South America.

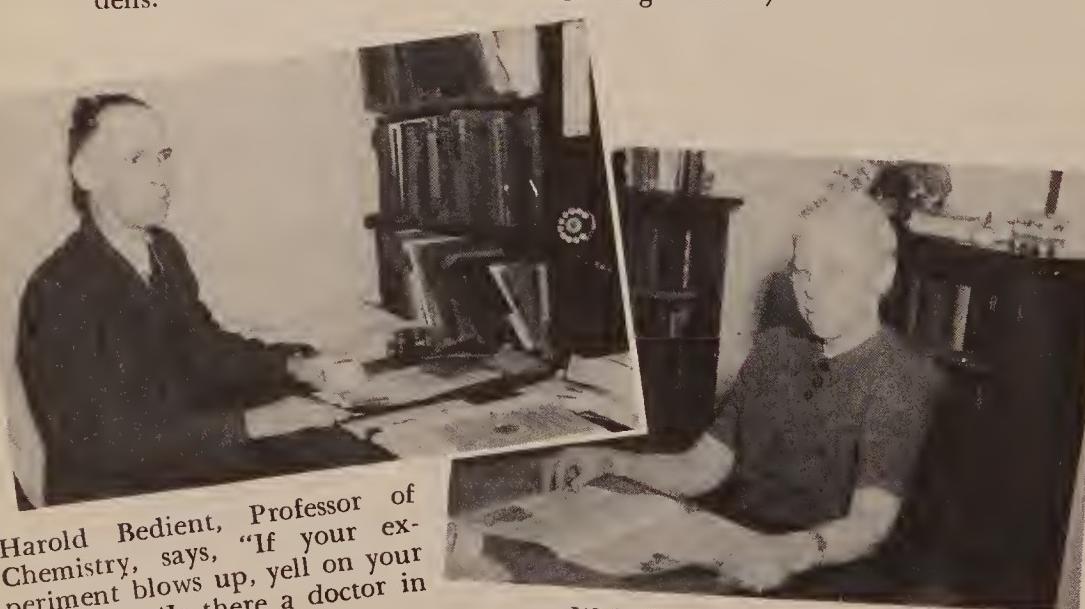

A. B. Cope and Guy Marchant, Professor of Psychology and Associate Professor of Engineering respectively, both think it would be much more fun to stay home and tend their gardens.

James E. Morlock, Associate Professor of Sociology, is now gone but not forgotten. Ask the students who were left with the gigantic assignments. (He's temporarily at Ohio State becoming a Ph.D.)

Ida M. Stieler, Assistant Professor of Physical Education, would like to know, "Is you is, or is you ain't here today?"

Harold Bedient, Professor of Chemistry, says, "If your experiment blows up, yell on your way down, 'Is there a doctor in the house?'"

Ernest C. VanKeuren, Professor of English, is well known for bow ties, forgetting keys, "love" of Dickens, and the word "ambrosial" as found in Tennyson.

James G. Johnson, Instructor in Journalism, is "Johnnie" to the Crescent staff. He scoops the college news . . . and bowls . . . and bowls.

Emerson Henke, Associate Professor of Economics, looks up after finding that Accounting Stude Caywood got four when adding two and two.

Margaret Shepard, Associate Professor of Music, deals out sharps and flats to music majors.

Donald W. Dunham, Assistant Professor of Biology, investigates the antics of the paramonium as compared to his Freshman Zo students.

John A. Needy and Francis Bullock, Director of Technical Education and Director of Testing and Counselling respectively, are faculty infants, this being their first year at E.C.

Ralph Olmsted, Executive Secretary, arrives for a day's work of taking pictures and taking money.

Dorothy Kolb and Grace Kimball, Instructors in German and Biology respectively, converse on germs and Germans.

Shirley Snetien and Marian McLaughlin, Instructors in Music, are firm believers in the three "B's" — barrelhouse, boogie-woogie, and blow that horn.

Class

All good things must have a beginning and an end. So back in September, 1941, the Senior Class of '45 had its beginning. The members flocked from all corners of the Tri-State to be bewildered by a week of "orientation" and then finally settle down to study (?) through the first year.

The rugged members of the class made the football team. The women organized Gamma Delta with Marge Wheeler, Pauline Neucks, Martha Rucker, and Nancy Cox as officers. The annual Freshie-Soph battle ended victoriously for us. We elected Herbie Northcut, Charles Taylor, Jeanne Anderson, and Marilyn Smith for our class officers. Our musical freshies joined the band and choir and the literary ones joined the Crescent and LinC staffs. In February we pledged, and then came our Hell Week. Finally May and finals arrived and afterwards good-byes were said until fall.

September, 1942, came but many of the old classmates did not. Uncle Sam needed EC manpower and most of the fellas enlisted in one of the three reserves in school. Several of the girls took Nurses' Aid training — yep, we knew there was a war on. But college life went on too — officers elected to head Kangaroo Court were Bill Fisher, Dick Thompson, Bob Lindsay, and Dick Notter.

The football eleven and the basketball squad drew many Sophs, while chosen as Queen of the Gridiron was Sophomore Nancy Ann Cox. W.A.A. had two sophomores as officers — Virginia Mattingley and Gracie DeLong. Pauline Neucks and Leroy Hodapp were active in the Thespians, and Pauline and Ruth Campbell represented the EC Debate team at the national conference in Chicago. Joe Chandler was assistant editor of the Crescent and other members of the President Peggy Reising

Crescent staff were Nancy Hooker, Bill Fisher, Leroy Hodapp, Mary Jane Simon, Lois Mehringer, and Pauline Neucks. YM and YW along with choir and the departmental clubs played an important role in our social lives, and soon another year had flown by and 'twas vacation time again.

It was vacation time for some, at least, but the persevering souls went to summer school, so when September came again we found new members in our midst and old members joining the Seniors — and here we were, Juniors! Our officers were Jim Bohrer, Pat Hallinan, Ruth Joyce Johnston, and Marge Heylmun.

Joyce Williams was secretary of the administrative board during the second semester. Members of the Student-Faculty committees were Pat Hallinan, Gracie DeLong, John Grant, Paul Caywood, Pauline Neucks, and Miriam Tirmenstein. Co-editors of the Linc were Joyce Williams and Pauline Neucks. The Women's Council had Joy Lee Mundy and Pat Hallinan on the board, and Marjorie Shelley was president of the Thetas. Charles Buck and Jean Lindenschmidt were elected to Phi Beta Chi. James Bohrer was listed in Who's Who, and James, Joyce Williams, and Pauline Neucks were chosen Campus Notables. Many studious juniors made the Dean's List; those who rated Pi Gamma Mu were Joyce Williams, Miriam Tirmenstein, Virginia Mattingley, and Arlene David. This, then, was our Junior year — with no prom. .

September, 1944, finally arrived and the beginning of the end was at hand. To head SGA we had Pat Hallinan as president and Fred Stephenson as treasurer, with many other worthy seniors serving on SFF Committees. Class officers for the year were Peggy Reising, Grace Gehlhausen, Vera Miller, and Fred Stephenson.

Seniors really dominated the presidencies on the campus — Sigs, Joyce Williams and Thelma Overdeer; Thetas, Joy Lee Mundy and Grace Gehlhausen; Castys, Eleanor Wright and Peggy Reising; Philos, Fred Stephenson; Women's Council, Arlene David; YW, Marjorie Shelley; Tri Mu, Paul Caywood; W.A.A., Gracie DeLong; A.C.E., Joy Lee Mundy and Thelma Overdeer; Secretarial Club, Miriam Tirmenstein.

Editor of the Linc was Pauline Neucks. Who's Who had Virginia Mattingley, Pat Hallinan, Pauline Neucks, Joyce Williams, Marjorie Shelley, Arlene David, Paul Caywood, and Fred Stephenson. New members of Pi Gamma Mu were Joy Lee Mundy, Esther Kaetzel, Bettye Baugh, Janet Frank, and Fred Stephenson.

And so the end is here. For some it came in February, for most of us in June, and for a few others it will come in August. But for all of us, it finishes that happy part of our life that is known as college "daze." So now armed with two letters behind our name and the coveted sheepskin, we venture forth to "face the future unafraid."

Class

With the draft, marriage, other schools, and wartime jobs taking their toll, the class of '46 returned to E.C. in the fall with only one half its number from last year. Though our numbers were few we were represented in nearly every field. Leading us were Francile MacDonald as president, assisted by Herb Reller as vice-president; Janet Luhring, secretary and Robb Kell taking care of the financial ends.

Harold Brown and Herb Reller represented us on the hardwood in a very successful season for the Aces — Reller playing for his first time, and "Brownie" a veteran of two years ago, returned to E.C. to pour through baskets to become the state's highest scorer, and also to become the first winner of the Kiwanis Award presented to Evansville College for basketball sportsmanship.

Ah, beauty! and we had it with Dorothy Steiner chosen basketball queen. She was crowned in the usual manner, with the whole basketball team taking part, at the coronation dance.

In addition to being a queen, Steiner could speak for herself, being the only junior on the debate squad and the only junior member in the "Cradle Song" production. Our literary minds dominated the Crescent with Pat Adams as editor. Cox, Steiner, and Dannettell alternated in digging up the dirt for "Off 'n' On," and Gus Anguizola wrote "Facts and Figures of My World." Represented on the LinC were MacDonald, Bob Miller, Elmendorf, Adams, and Frances Johnson.

Jane Bedient, Pat Adams, Bill Elmendorf, and Dot Julian were elected to Phi Beta Chi.

MacDonald, Adams, and Elmendorf also brought us our share of honors by being chosen to be members of "Who's Who."

As an able leader Bob Miller served as president of Thespians and vice-president of the Student Christian Association while Francile MacDonald served as secretary. Tri Mu elected Marilyn Miller as secretary-treasurer. Marilyn was also president of the girls' choir.

We were well represented on the Student Faculty Federation Committees: Assembly, Martha Dunbar and Francile MacDonald; Athletics, Bill Standring and Harold Brown; Public Speech, Dot Steiner and Mary Dannettell; Social Life, Norma Koch and Bill Elmendorf.

Janet Luhring was kept busy as secretary of A.C.E. and also secretary-treasurer of Thespians.

Fraternity life kept on its toes with Simmons serving as Philo prexy and both Elmendorf and Yates serving as Phi Zeta presidents.

Officers of Alpha Phi Omega included Elmendorf as president, Yates as secretary, Bedient as historian and Horner as sergeant-at-arms.

Few as we were, we rounded out a busy year at E.C. and hope to come back as strong if not stronger next year to graduate the class of 1946.

Class

Yes, it was true! We had successfully hurdled our freshman year and we now answer to the name of sophomore.

Starting off with a bang we elected Robert Dimmett as president of our class, Bettye Steinback, vice-president, Virginia Stocking, secretary, and Jeanne Roesner, treasurer.

Members of our class were quite active in all campus activities. Assistant editor of the Crescent was Rubylee O'Bryan, and the assistant editor of the Linc was Peggy Treat. Reporters for the Crescent included Sharon Burton, Dorothy Hebbeler, Dortha Mason, Pat Padgett, Pat Smith, Bettye Steinback, Virginia Stocking, and Peggy Treat. Sophomores on the Linc staff were Pat Padgett, Art Editor, and Dorothy Hebbeler, Literary Editor.

The sophomores really held the reins of Alpha Phi Delta with Bettye Steinback serving as president, Virginia Stocking, vice-president, Pat Padgett, secretary, and Pat Weiss, treasurer.

Y.W.C.A. had Esther Luttrull as secretary, and Pat Padgett, Bettye Schwiersch, and Pat Weiss as committee chairmen.

Other offices held by sophomores were: president of the Catholic Club, Pat Smith; secretary of the Secretarial Science Club, Dorothy Hebbeler; treasurer of the Secretarial Science Club, Peggy Treat; secretary of the Choir, Bettye Steinback; vice-president of Alpha Phi Omega, Dick Schwambach; secretary of S.G.A., Chestine Kishline.

Cale Englebright and Jim Ritter answered Henke's call to the hardwood and proved themselves worthy representatives of our class.

Sophomores active on Student-Faculty committees were Carolyn Compton, Pat Smith, Martha Weikel, Dorothy Cochran, LaVange Dunlap, Bill Simmons.

Serving on the Inter-Society Council was Bettye Schwiersch while Dorothy Hebbeler was appointed to serve on the Women's Council.

The sophomore class was not without its share of royalty. Peggy Treat was elected Student Sponsor of Cornerstone Dedication of Science and Engineering Building. The same day Pat Smith was chosen Phi Zeta Sweetheart.

Thus we bring to a close another happy and successful year at E.C. — one step closer to the end of our goal.

Class

One bright September morning, a group of young men and women wandered through the halls of Evansville College with a never-seen-tall-buildings look about them. But of course, they're the newcomers to the college — the green freshmen! And that we were.

Though we tried to look ever so wise and knowing, the registration schedule . . . the many papers and blanks to fill in . . . long lines of students . . . new faces . . . all gave us that uncertain feeling. Oh, what complications! But, somehow we survived.

At our first meeting as a group, we elected as temporary officers, William Holloman, president; Robert Laubscher, vice-president; Dorothy Pirtle, secretary, and Betty Byrd, treasurer. These students were also later elected to serve as permanent freshman officers.

Social life started off with a bang for us . . . a Freshman-Faculty banquet, with Dr. Ernest Van Keuren entertaining us with clever comments while introducing the faculty members . . . a comedy skit by two upperclassmen . . . our first glimpse of President Lincoln B. Hale . . . an all-campus party, barn-dance style, with plenty of entertainment provided by every class.

We had heard tall tales of sophomore pranks and penalties on unsuspecting freshmen, and of the customary green beanies. Frankly, we were worried. Time passed, and our lives were undisturbed. What could be wrong with the sophomores?

The girls formed their first semester society, Gamma Delta. They elected Pat Forsythe, president; Anna Marie Thompson, vice-president, Betsy Baskett, secretary-treasurer. Their greatest accomplishment was the successful Gamma Delta Coronation Dance. Gamma Deltas were also the guests of the organized sororities at individual parties throughout the first semester.

Many of the freshmen interested in journalism joined the Crescent and LinC staffs. Beginning writers for the Crescent included Betty Byrd, Norma Lee Dunning, Ray Franks, Constance Koch, and Betty Willner. The yearbook found freshmen Willner, Franks and Koch on the staff.

The Evansville College Choir received quite a few recruits from the freshman girls. Voice additions to the group were: Fauntella Barnett, Marian Culp, Ruth Eilert, Wanda Grant, Ruth Hobgood, Lucille Miller, Dorothy Pirtle, June Sauer, and Edna Mae Tiemann.

When basketball season rolled around, the freshman class was well represented on the team. Richard Groben, Morgan Jones, and James Wellemeyer were on the first five, and Robert Hauselmire, another freshman, joined the first team when Groben left during the season for the Navy. Roy Elliott, Harry Levin, Dorington Little, Jack Caine, Ray Buller, and Harold Goodwin were freshmen on the reserve team. To make a basketball game complete, cheerleaders are necessary, and that's where the freshmen shone. The three new leaders chosen, Hazel Dean Overfield, Fred Shatara, and Harry Levin, were members of the freshman class.

There were also athletes among the freshman girls. Quite a few of them soon discovered the W.A.A. and regularly entered the gym at 4:00 p.m. to play games with the upperclassmen.

And who could forget that comedy team, Bob Hevron and Jim Ritter? They added laughs to several assemblies. Hevron is the freshman half of the team.

We, the Freshman Class of '45, set this down as our beginning record, and hope to improve and add to it as our four years go by.

ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD

Deans McKown and DeLong, Patricia Hallinan, Dean Morlock, Fred Stephenson, Chestine Kishline, President Hale.

Each spring every good politician on the campus puts forth his best efforts to influence students to vote the right way, his way, in the Student Association campaign. The three candidates who emerged victorious in the last election were Pat Hallinan, our first woman prexy; Chestine Kishline, secretary; and Fred Stephenson, treasurer.

These three officers automatically mounted seats on the Administrative Board and met with the president and three deans of the College to "enable students and faculty... to promote most effectively the aims of the College as symbolized in the seven-branched candlestick of the College seal." They meet every Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. to effect this purpose.

In October this group sponsored the students' participation in the War Chest Drive in which the students collected over $1,800 for the fund.

MEN'S COUNCIL

Two members from each fraternity, Phi Zeta and Pi Epsilon Phi, and two unorganized men form the Executive Committee of the Men's Council. Headed by the Dean of Men, it acts as a link between the men's groups, serving the common interests of all men.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Women's Council is composed of all women on the campus. The Executive Committee is composed of three elected members, two appointed members, and the president of the Y.W.C.A. It is in charge of the Women's Lounge, heads plans for May Day, and this year has cooperated with Men's Council in supervising the Co-ed Lounge.

Back Row — Shelley, DeLong, Luhring.

INTER-SOCIETY COUNCIL

This tripartisan council meets monthly to discuss society matters brought before it. Its aim is to establish harmony and fair play among campus sororities. This council is made up of the president of each sorority plus one representative from each sorority. Miss DeLong is an ex officio member of the council.

A sorority for freshman women, Gamma Delta is open to newcomers at the beginning of each fall semester. Early in the year the Women's Council gave a wiener roast in the Retreat at the College oven. As the custom, the three sororities entertained the freshmen. With the Sigs they went in plaid shirts and jeans to Mesker Park for a ranch party. The Thetas entertained at the T-Hut, having Mother Goose for their theme. At Eleanor Wright's home the Deltas and the Castys, attired in pajamas and gowns, awaited a visit from Santa Claus.

For one of their social events, Gamma Delta held a skirt and sweater party in the Women's Lounge. In November the sorority was in charge of a talent assembly in which almost the entire membership was represented: Winding up the year's activities, the Gamma Delta Coronation Dance combined with the usual Homecoming Dance was held February 2 in the Gold Room at Hotel McCurdy.

Although another year has come to a close and the girls have left Gamma Delta to join other sororities, memories of their freshman organization will remain with them forever.

Officers for the year were Patricia Forsythe, president; Ann Freese Thompson, vice-president; Elizabeth Baskett, secretary-treasurer.

The Castalian Society began another year of activity in August with a week-end party at Mary Woltz Schroeder's camp. The Traditional Literary Tea, arranged by Bettye Lou Baugh, was held in December. Arlene David was presented with the Castalian scholarship award.

Mrs. Ryan, new Casty sponsor, entertained the sorority for dinner at the Spaghetti Bowl, February 22. The theme of the party held for the Gamma Deltas, December 12, was "The Night Before Christmas" — gifts were presented by Santa (a bewhiskered Danny). The Castalian assembly was a psychological study of the habits of Homo sapiens during the period of courtship.

Peg Reising, rush captain, was in charge of the rush party held at the Vendome Hotel where the Empire Room was transformed into "Club Castalia." The fifteen new pledges were guests at tea at Winslow's. The pledge dinner and first degree initiation were held in the Mural Room of the Vendome Hotel.

The Castilians were among the campus leaders — members holding the presidency of the Women's Council, presidency of the Catholic Club, business manager and assistant business manager of the LinC, and business manager of the Crescent. Pat Smith was chosen Phi Zeta Sweetheart and during the second semester Virginia Stocking was given the scholarship award.

A Mess of Phi Zetas

Even with most of the members in the armed forces, Phi Zeta fraternity carried on in the traditionally active fashion. Starting with fourteen active members, Leo Buttrum was pledged in the summer, and John Mallory and Mack Goines were pledged in the fall. In the winter the Phi Zetas led the pledging with fourteen new members.

Hell Week was held each semester this year for the "benefit" of those leaving for military service. Members enjoyed the numerous dances held in the coed lounge and the summer parties and after-dance parties given by Dr. VanKeuren.

Bill Elmendorf, first semester president, did the honors at the Sixth Annual Phi Zeta Sweetheart Dance held November 24 in the Gold Room at the Hotel McCurdy. Jack Yates served as president the second semester.

Phi Zetas defeated the Philos 25 to 2 in the interfraternity basketball game at the Armory and also defeated them 19 to 6 in their annual football game. Robb Kell, Paul Caywood, and Bill Elmendorf were selected to appear in Who's Who. In November the Phi Zetas put on their annual hilarious assembly under the chairmanship of Paul Caywood. The Sigs and Phi Zetas got together for social activities, including the annual Halloween party, Christmas caroling, and the pledge party.

With the Phi Zetas proving themselves as leaders on the campus, they enjoyed a very successful year. The Fellowship song united them more closely in brotherhood as it has the brothers heretofore, who are now serving in the four corners of the world.

Gamma Epsilon Sigma, formerly known as the Sigournean Literary Society, was founded in 1856 and is the oldest of the three sororities on the campus.

The Sigs, as the members are commonly known, have been actively engaged in practically all phases of campus life during this past year.

A well-rounded program was carried out under the leadership of the two presidents, Joyce Williams and Thelma Overdeer, and Mrs. Shirley Snethen, sponsor. The first honor of the year which came to Gamma Epsilon Sigma occurred when five Sigs were listed in Who's Who. In November Peggy Treat was voted student sponsor of the cornerstone dedication and was honored at the ceremony.

Sig traditions were not forgotten. The annual Sig assembly was presented on Halloween. It was an original play entitled, "The Fishpond Spook." Grace DeLong did a marvelous job as the ghost. The huge tree that was in the main hall during the Christmas season was decorated by the Sigs. In May the fathers were entertained at a Dad's Dinner in the Co-ed Lounge and the mothers were entertained at tea in honor of Mother's Day.

Rush Captain Peggy Treat was in charge of the fall and winter rush parties. In the fall the rushees were entertained at the home of Dorothy Ruth Julian, which was transformed for an evening into a "Russian Inn." In February the Sigs had a "Plantation Party" for the rushees at the Hotel Vendome. This year Gamma Epsilon Sigma pledged eighteen new members.

In March, members of Gamma Epsilon Sigma aided in the Red Cross drive by coming to the rescue when it was discovered that one entire area had not been solicited. The Sigs collected nearly six hundred dollars.

Parties, parties — many were held throughout the year. In the fall Gamma Epsilon Sigma entertained the members of Gamma Delta at a ranch party at the Heidelberg Inn. The annual Halloween party was given in the Co-ed Lounge in conjunction with Phi Zeta. In December Pat Adams entertained the Sigs at her home at the annual Christmas party. Throughout the year Sigs got together for theater parties, bridge parties, spaghetti dinners, wiener roasts, and Phi Zeta-Sig parties.

The scholarship pin, which is presented by the Sig Alums to the freshman member with the highest point average, was won this year by Dorothy Pirtle. Sigs boast presxies of W.A.A., Tau Kappa Alpha, Secretarial Club, Alpha Phi Delta, Press Club, A.C.E., and editors of the Crescent and Linc.

Small but mighty — that's the Philos. The armed forces practically depleted the ranks, but those left are carrying on true to form.

The social season started in the summer with numerous stag parties and a swimming party with the Castys and Thetas at Stocking's Lake. The fall season was opened with the Theta-Philo-Casty pledge dance in October. Then came initiation of four new pledges: Dick Schnute, Bob Dimmett, Bill Schuster, and Ralph Norman.

Philos added nine new members at winter pledging, and they went through an initiation they say they will never forget — and quickly became accustomed to these Monday night "Business Meetings."

Bill Simmons served as president of the fraternity the first semester, and Fred Stephenson was president second semester. Fred served as S.G.A. treasurer and was also chosen to appear in Who's Who. Bill Simmons served on the Athletic Board of Control — also got himself engaged. Dimmett was president of the Pre-Med Club first semester.

Theta Sigma sorority, first Greek letter society on the campus, has had a record year. Under the helm of Joy Lee Mundy, the Thetas started the year with Miss Marian McLaughlin as a new sponsor. Theta-Philo-Casty party started the school year.

Fall pledge party kept guests moving and new pledges, Jane Bedient, Lloyd Fosse, and Alice Livers joined the group. Potlucks still find Thetas going strong. "Veracity or Consequences" was Thetas' contribution to a hilarious assembly program. The party for Gamma Deltas in the Co-ed Lounge had music sweet and smooth.

Activities and honors claimed by Thetas this year include Who's Who, Dean's List, Phi Beta Chi members, presidents of Y.W.C.A., ACE, and SGA.

Then time came for Steiner to shove off with WAVES with a going-away party at the Spaghetti Bowl soon after she was crowned Basketball Queen at the Coronation Dance.

A new semester, a new prexy, Gehlhausen, and new Theta songs sung by actives on the Alum radio program set the pace for coming activities.

Rush party at the Empire Room, Vendome, on Washington's birthday under the leadership of Pat Hallinan, Rush Captain, displayed the life of Washington. New pledges numbered nine.

The pledge party at Pease's home was a great success, so that now all Thetas truly mean:

"Loyal forever we'll be,
Sharing laughter and heartaches,
All sisters are we."

DORM LIFE

"Come and get it."

10:30 P.M.

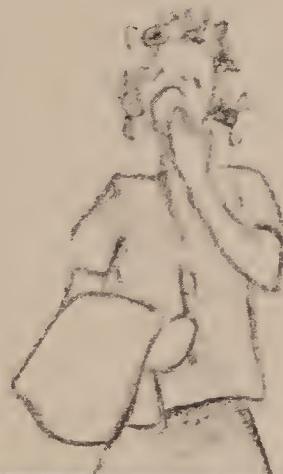

Betsy the Milkmaid.

Have you ever stopped to wonder why E.C. co-eds tighten their holds on their E.C. beaus about the time "Hale's Belles" have a dance? 'Tis rumored it's because of the irresistibility of these eleven tri-state girls who live at the President's home.

The girls at "Belle House" will remember many things about their dormitory experience besides the dances. Among them — the 10 p.m. hall meetings with councilor Mrs. Dorothy Kolb in charge (where the culprit who left the light burning in the closet is exposed and where the girls are admonished to make quiet hours quiet hours) — the voice training they get by answering the telephone one day a week — the luscious dinners they have with the Hales on Wednesday nights — the spontaneous group discussions ranging from speculations about how hard Dr. Lewis's history exam will be to whose boy friend is the most handsome — the everlasting questions, "Do you have a stamp?" and "Did I get a letter today?"

THESPIANS

Back Row — Yates, Miller, Mahan, Roesner, Kuntz, Kellough, Courtenay.
Front Row — Begert, Luhring, Neucks, Ford, Caywood.

The Thespians wind up the 1944-15 school year with four productions to their credit. Miss LeCompte was kept busy directing Eager Heart, Cradle Song, On Approval, and The Women-folk.

In the fall the club elected Bob Miller President, Pauline Neucks Vice-President, and Janet Luhring Secretary-Treasurer. The club's activities started on November 5 with a tea in the Women's Lounge, given in conjunction with Tri Mu.

The 19th annual production of the Christmas pageant, Eager Heart, was presented on the afternoon of December 10. Thespian alumni presented the second revival of Cradle Song on February 4 and 8. It was given on Sunday afternoon, February 4, for the religious and clergy of Evansville and surrounding towns, and on February 8 for the public. Although the majority of the cast were Thespians who had appeared in the original cast of 1930 or in the revival of 1940, student Thespians who had roles in the play were Dorothy Steiner, Pauline Neucks, Paul Caywood, and Edward Reeves.

On Approval, an English comedy by Frederick Lonsdale, was the last major production of the season. It was presented on April 30 in the College Auditorium. Bob Miller was in charge of scenery and Janet Luhring in charge of tickets for this and the other plays of the season.

The one-act play, The Womenfolk, was presented by the Thespians during one of the assembly periods in May.

CHOIR

Shepard's Smiling Songsters

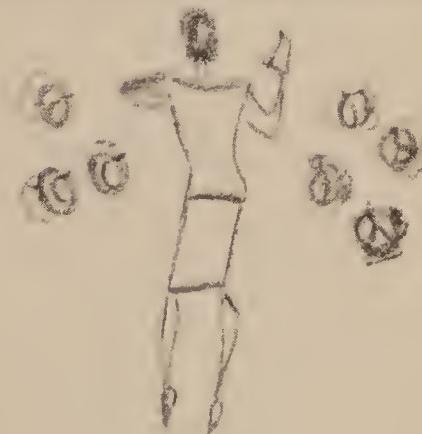

The songsters clad in pale-blue formals, known as the Evansville College All-Girl Choir, have sung their way through the second year since the formation of the group in 1943.

Directed by Mrs. Margaret Taylor Shepard, head of the Music Department, the Choir, composed of thirty-five members, half of whom are veterans from last year's group, gave a number of special programs at the College and around the city during the year, climaxing its season with the Spring Concert in April.

The first appearance of the Choir was in November, when the group sang at the Anniversary Dinner commemorating the 25th year since the establishment of Evansville College and the 125th anniversary of the founding of Evansville, held in the Hotel McCurdy. In December, the Choir "imported" some tenors and basses, and the combined group provided the traditional music for Eager Heart. Also, the Girls' Choir was featured in the annual Christmas assembly. As a part of the holiday activities, a volunteer group sang Christmas carols at the First Christian Church, just a few days previous to its burning, and another small group selected from the Choir journeyed to Camp Breckinridge to present a program of Christmas music at the hospital.

During the second semester, the Girls' Choir gave programs at Reitz and Central High Schools, as well as giving an assembly at the College. The Choir was again featured in the Commencement Exercises in June.

Officers of the Choir for this year were: Marilyn E. Miller, president; Francile MacDonald, vice-president; Bettye Steinback, secretary; Janet Frank, first semester treasurer, and Dorothy Pirtle, second semester treasurer.

Hebbeler, Lieberman, Mason, Caywood, Hallinan, Anguizola, Smith, Dunbar, Dannettell, Byrd, O'Bryan, Editor Adams, Dunning, Willner, Nesbit, Franks, Bischmann.

Beginning the year in a newly painted office — light green this time — the Crescent acquired in November fluorescent lights, a telephone, and a new journalism adviser — James G. Johnson on the masthead but Johnny to the staff.

On Wednesday afternoons the basement cubbyhole assumes a professional atmosphere with Pat begging Nelly to dash off a feature, while Rubylee and P.K. argue over the make-up of the first page. Barricaded in a corner P.P. writes a last-minute interview as Ray, trying to squeeze nine inches of type into eight inches of space, says, "It's only a hundred words too long — couldn't we take an ad out?" Sox shrieks, "You can't do that to me!" Stationed behind her typewriter, Betty tries valiantly to keep the past, present, and future assemblies straight.

This year Paul and Nelly tried to outdo each other in alternating on "The Wash — or Everything Comes Out Here" and Gus, Panamanian journalism student, wrote his column, "Facts and Figures of My World," about University life in Panama. Each week one of the campus sororities or fraternities snooped around the T-Hut looking for gossip for "Off 'n' On." The editorial page was streamlined and the traditional sports column, "The Knothole," was reinstated under Ray's by-line. Several special editions, including ones for Easter and Hell Week, were issued.

A record book and a memory book — that is what the LinC staff has tried to make this 1944-45 LinC. And what memories it will hold for Pauline and me it is difficult to say, for we spent hours and hours figuring out new and unusual page arrangements. Never let it be said that this LinC is the "same old stuff."

This LinC represents Evansville College in 1944-45, the year we went back to the prewar semester schedule with the exception of the vacation between semesters — the grand total of one week end. Men, what few there were, kept leaving all year, and the women had to take over their duties, as in the case of Peg Reising who became LinC Business Manager when Jack Bedient left for the army. Poor Peg — reluctant businessmen often caused her headaches, but she triumphed in the end, getting the needed ads.

Polly's battle cry was "Keller-Crescent said we had to have it in by the 10th, and I know we can't possibly!" Pat Padgett, Art Editor, wrung her hands in despair at the atrocities of balance, or rather lack of balance, as viewed from an artist's eye. In the meantime I took it all in, munching the never-ending supply of cheese crackers and potato chips on the office shelves. Dr. Van Keuren, forced to put up with the staff, cheerfully donated his office and his chocolate-covered raisins. About the time we thought nothing else could happen, it always did; but the LinC progressed and here it is. In spite of all the worry, time, sweat, and blood put in, the fun we had was worth it.

Many, many thanks to Cameraman Olmsted and to all the staff members who made the LinC what it is — particularly to Peg Reising for getting the ads, Dot Hebbeler for being literary editor, Marge Shelley for the calendar, Mary Dannettell for assisting Peg, Ray Franks for sports writings, Fred Stephenson for taking care of individual student portraits, Esther Kaetzel for being class editor, and Dr. Van Keuren for his raisins, advice, wit, and everything he contributed to the production of the LinC. To these people Polly and I will be eternally grateful.

"To unite in one group all students and teachers engaged in journalistic work, to the end that interest may be heightened, ability improved, and the quality of undergraduate publications be brought to and kept at the highest possible level, thus better serving the interests of the College" . . . sponsored by James G. Johnson, new journalism adviser, the E.C. Press Club made its debut on the campus this year. Eligible for membership are the editorial and business staffs of the Crescent and LinC — also College faculty members actively engaged in journalistic work.

The Club plans to elect each year an honorary member, to be chosen from either student body or faculty, on the basis of outstanding service to the College.

Leading the Press Club in its first faltering steps were President Patricia Adams, editor of the Crescent; Vice-President Grace DeLong; Secretary Rubylee O'Bryan, and Treasurer Ray Franks.

PRESS CLUB

A.C.E.

Future teachers of America.

Another year has rolled around . . . Christmas found us again filling stockings for the servicemen; mid-semester found us wishing good luck to the graduating teachers, namely Frank, Mundy, and Williams . . . and still the elementary education majors gather at A.C.E. meetings once a month for entertainment, discussions, and to listen to the tales of woe from the practice teachers.

Guests at our first meeting were the freshmen who are joining our ranks. We roasted wieners at the college oven. By the way, A.C.E. meetings are noted for their good food . . . school teachers can cook!

On the night of our third meeting at the home of Miss Jones, rainy weather kept all the alum guests and most of the members away, but those six who were there still have the others wondering about what took place . . . the secretary failed to take minutes.

Officers for the year were: Thelma Overdeer, president; Grace Gehlhausen, vice-president; Janet Luhring, secretary; Peg Reising, treasurer; Marjorie Heylmun, publicity chairman.

SECRETARIAL CLUB

Mrs. LaVerne Ryan, new instructor in secretarial science, took over the sponsorship of the Secretarial Club in the fall.

Presented with the traditional red rose, six new members were initiated in November. Santa presented gifts at the Christmas party, and in January, Ann Eaton spoke to the club about the National Secretarial Association. Peggy Treat, Patricia Hallinan, and Patricia Adams participated in the annual panel on Personality and Good Grooming at the February meeting.

Miss Marilyn Neucks, secretary at Servel, Inc., was guest at the March meeting, speaking about the "Qualifications for the Job." The Perfect Secretary meeting was held in April with Eleanor McCool, last year's perfect secretary, as special guest.

The most important activity of the year, the sponsorship of the choosing of the perfect secretary in May, was in charge of Dorothy Hebbeler.

Each month at the meeting, an award is given to the girl who is judged to have done the most outstanding work in the department for the past month. This "Girl of the Month" award was won this year by Patricia Hallinan, Elowese Hurt, Virginia Mattingley, Esther Kaetzel, Miriam Tirmenstein, and Suzanne Schmitt.

Officers of the club this year were: Miriam Tirmenstein, president; Esther Kaetzel, vice-president; Dorothy Hebbeler, secretary; Peggy Treat, treasurer; Pauline Neucks, publicity chairman.

PRE-MED CLUB

Last October the Pre-Medical Association of Evansville College was reorganized for the first time since November, 1941. Most of the old members are in the armed forces. Even since October Bill Standing, Jack Bedient, Bob Dimmett, Bill Hollman, and Dick Newman have left us to visit their Uncle Sam. Dick Schnute is also contemplating an indefinite leave of absence in the near future.

But stimulation of medical interest must go on. Our membership includes all prenursing, premedical, predental, and preveterinarian students. We strive to give these students an insight into the big fields of medicine and surgery in which they will some day find themselves.

To his patient, a doctor likes to play dumb sometimes. But when he finds a group who wants to follow in his footsteps, he usually radiates vital information. This is one way the Pre-Med Club is learning. The club also toured the State Hospital — and successfully, because all the members got back, even Paul Seiler.

Officers for the fall semester were: President, Bob Dimmett; Vice-President, Jack Bedient; Secretary, Frances Johnson; and Treasurer, Dick Schnute. The officers for the spring semester are: President, Frances Johnson; Vice-President, Steve Horner; Secretary, Nancy Wilson; and Treasurer, Bill Wohler.

For sponsor the club has Dr. Donald W. Dunham, and for honorary sponsor and helper, Dr. Grace Kimball.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The need for a unity among religious organizations on the campus brought forth the Evansville College Student Christian Association, an interdenominational group. Although it is still in the formative stage, the Association has proved to be worth while.

With the major objectives of creating a sense of worship on the campus and providing opportunities for discussion and study as the basis, the work of the S.C.A. was carried on through the year. Blanks to discover church affiliations and qualifications for leadership in church activities were compiled and distributed. Study groups covered books by E. Stanley Jones and others. In February, Ralla Ram, member of the World Student Federation from India, spoke at a tea held in the Women's Lounge, sponsored by Mrs. McKown in collaboration with the S.C.A., with Jane Bedient as student chairman.

The S.C.A. meets on the first, third, and fifth Thursdays of the month. Both students and faculty are eligible for membership. The Association can become a member of the World Student Christian Federation of the National Association of Student Christian Associations when it meets the qualifications.

Officers for the year were: President, Marjorie Shelley; Vice-President and program chairman, Bob Miller; Secretary, Francile MacDonald; and Treasurer, Harriet Bynum. The cabinet included: World Relatedness, Mary Jane Schmidt; Church Relations, Ariel Schrodt; and Study Groups, Ruth Hobgood. Faculty advisers were: Dr. McKown, director of Religious Life, Dr. Buller, and Professor Needy.

The Y.W.C.A. has completed an active year with the following officers: Marjorie Shelley, president; Gracie DeLong, vice-president; Esther Luttrull, secretary; and Mary Jane Schmitt, treasurer. Miss DeLong and Miss Thrall acted as the club's sponsors and Mrs. McKown was honorary sponsor.

Activities for the year opened with the Big-Little Sister party given the first week of school for the freshman girls; Gracie DeLong, vice-president, was in charge of arrangements. At Christmas the Y sponsored parties at the two local orphanages.

Perhaps the most outstanding activity of the year was the auction assembly sponsored by the group, in which services of the faculty were auctioned off to students at incredible amounts, the money being donated to the World Student Service Fund. Miss Hilda Benson, traveling secretary for the WSSF, was brought to the campus for the occasion.

May was ushered in with the traditional May Breakfast given for the faculty on May 1. The Y's year was climaxed with a retreat held on Saturday, May 19, in the Co-ed Lounge. A picnic supper at the oven followed the retreat. Y members entertained representatives from Oakland City College at this retreat.

The Y.W.C.A. met every other Thursday at chapel period. In December Miss Ellen Williams from the First Baptist Church spoke to the group; during Religious Book Week Miss Thrall appeared on the program.

Chairmen who functioned this year were: Membership, Gracie DeLong; Finance, Mary Jane Schmitt; Program, Norma Jean Koch; Social, Martha Dunbar; Worship, Pat Weiss; Social Service, Pat Padgett; Publicity, Betty Schwiersch. Norma Jean Koch was the representative for the Student Volunteer Movement.

CATHOLIC CLUB

Back Row — Shatara, Gray, Kiesel, Statham, Hermann.
Front Row — Neucks, Smith, Father Gabriel, Reeves, Roberts.

Catholic students of Evansville College are given opportunity to meet and discuss religious problems at the Catholic Club, which is under the supervision of Father Gabriel Verkamp of St. Benedict's Church. Meetings are each Tuesday morning during assembly period. Several evening parties were held throughout the year at St. Benedict's School.

Membership of the club is comprised of approximately twenty students. Officers for the year were Pat Smith, president; Connie Koch, vice-president; Lowell Statham, secretary-treasurer.

Under the leadership of President Barthol Rogers, the Kappa Chi ministerial fraternity complete an active year. Members of Kappa Chi were responsible for a series of programs for the Deaconess Sunshine Hour and again this year sponsored the Holy Week services here at the College.

The organization met monthly at the College and were also entertained at the home of Dr. McKown, Kappa Chi sponsor.

W.A.A.

Luttrull, H. Smith, Stocking, M. J. Schmitt, Stieler, M. Wheeler, Dannettell, Dunnning.
Kuhlenschmidt, Hallinan, DeLong, Mattingley, Kaetzel, Tirmenstein.

Miss Stieler's 1945 Amazons of the gym floor faithfully trotted out to keep a date twice a week with such activities as touch football, volleyball, basketball, badminton, softball, swimming, and bowling.

Officers elected for the year were Gracie DeLong, president; Miriam Tirmenstein, vice-president; Virginia Mattingley, secretary; and Esther Luttrull, treasurer.

Just to finish last year off right, they beat the Faculty in the annual softball meet 4 to 3 — a sensation of the season, in fact, the second victory from the Faculty in history. This year the high light in tournaments was the "Tackleless" football fight. What a game! Volleyball brought victory to the seniors and juniors over the freshies and sophs. The basketball tourney was another thriller, then came the annual badminton tournaments — singles, doubles, and mixed. Talk about getting your feathers beaten down!

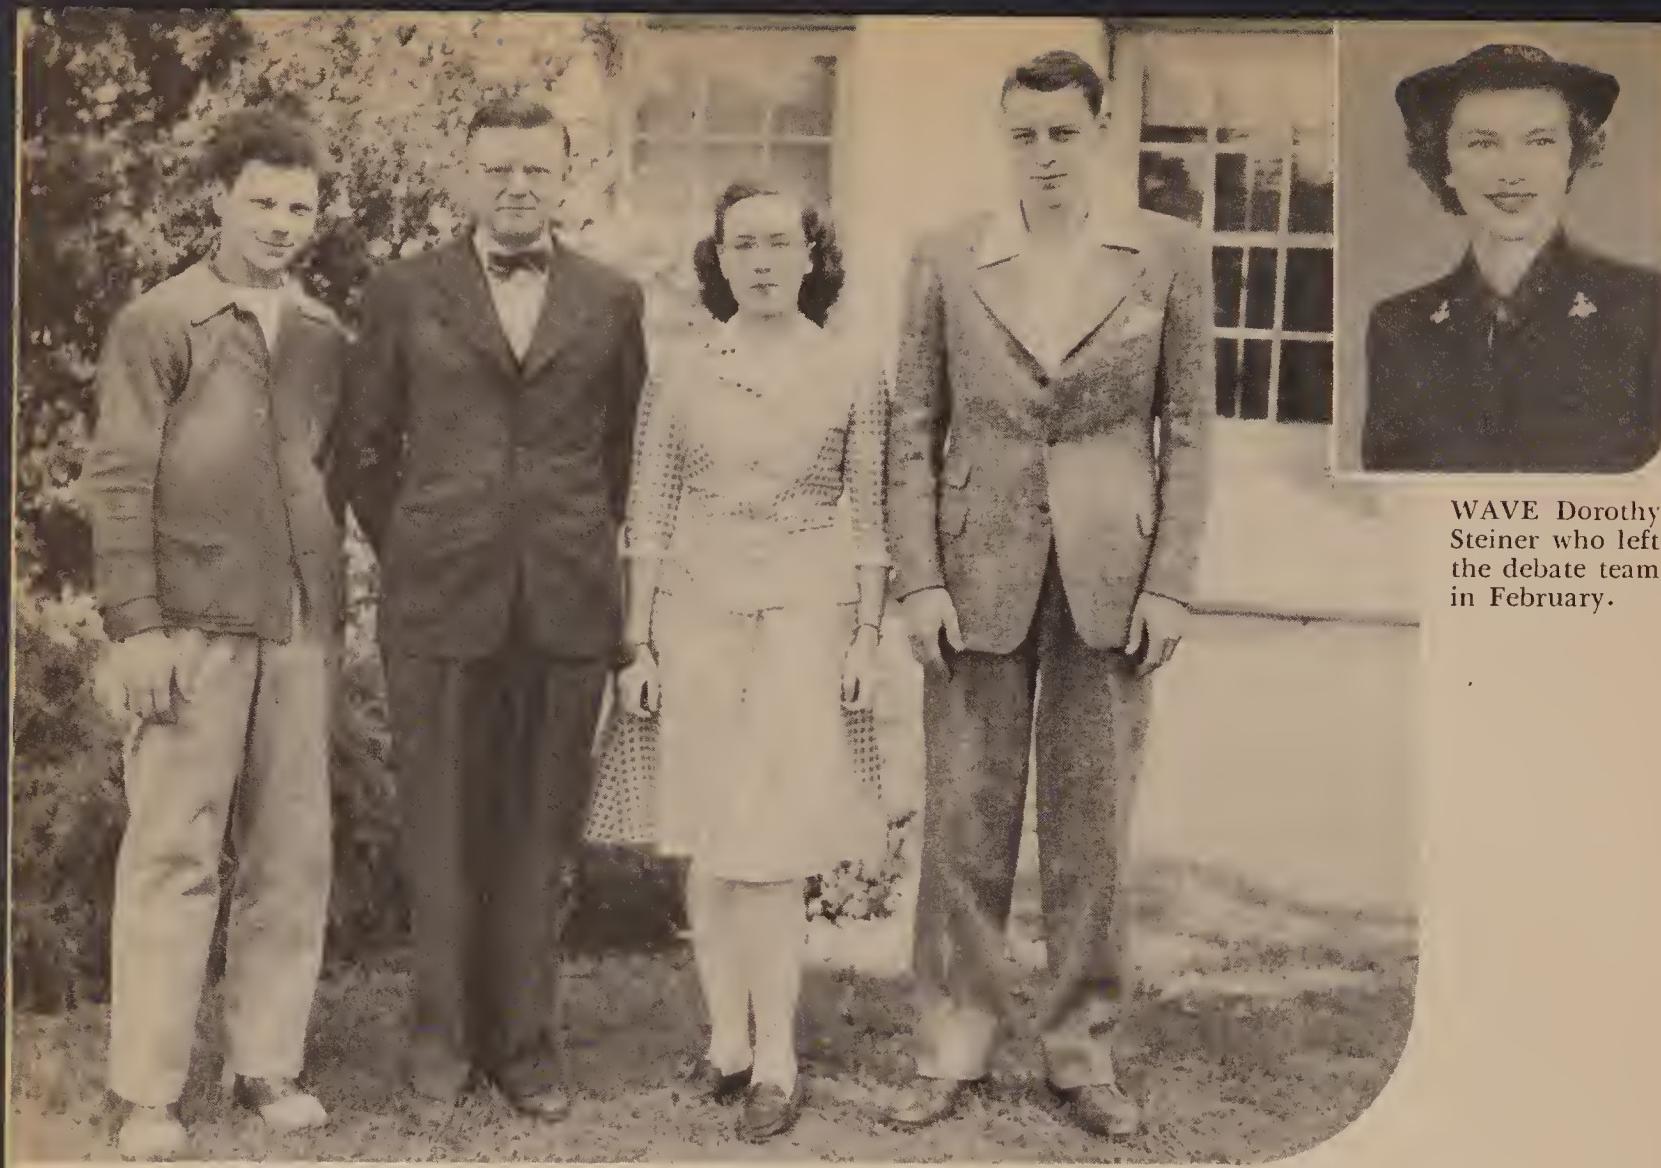

W.A.A. sponsored the E.C. Bowling League, newly organized on the campus. This brought out the best of competition between the teams of the W.A.A., Sigs, Phi Zetas, Castys, Thetas, Philos, Press Club, and Faculty.

Then to finish the season right, we met the Faculty in that "noted" softball game. Do those pros get a workout! (So do we!)

We also have celebrities. For instance, there's Virginia Mattingley, the star of all sports, who was a member of the Midwest Softball Team — Champs of Evansville.

Awards are given to members, based upon their participation in various sports. Each girl is awarded a pin when she earns 600 points, a sweater for 1200, and a chevron on her sweater for 1500. Miriam Tirmenstein and Esther Kaetzel were awarded sweaters, and Gracie DeLong and Virginia Mattingley received chevrons on their sweaters. Congrats, girls!

DEBATE

Dr. Van Keuren, with his class of only four debaters, was still able to keep this art on the campus this year.

Transportation difficulties made it impossible to travel to various colleges for debates, as is the usual practice. The team, composed of Dorothy Steiner, Pauline Neucks, Harry Lieberman, and Bill Hopkins, with Dr. and Mrs. Van Keuren did, however, represent Evansville College at the Tau Kappa Alpha National Discussion Conference in Chicago from December 28 to 30.

The question discussed at this conference, which was related to the national debate question, was, "To what extent should the federal government enact legislation in regard to labor disputes?" Evansville College and eight other Midwest colleges and universities were represented at this conference.

Students participating in this conference were rated in regard to their abilities to speak, present material, cooperate, arrive at conclusions. Pauline was rated seventh in the conference; Dorothy, nineteenth; Bill, twenty-first; and Harry, twenty-fifth.

Three in a bed . . . sliding down Inspiration Point (hard on one's jeans) . . . milk (twenty-five quarts of it) . . . snacks in front of a roaring fire in the wee hours . . . and four bedraggled campers and bedrolls stranded in Cannelton for two hours after missing the next-to-the-last bus home. These are some of the high lights of the Alpha Phi Delta trip to Camp Koch Thanksgiving week end.

Initiation of eighteen new Alpha Phi Deltas in November brought the total membership to thirty. Under the new constitution all members were made Associate Girl Scouts and received their pins.

As a service project they edited the Student Directory with Dot Hebbeler in charge. Officers of the year were: Bettye Steinback, president; Virginia Stocking, vice-president; Pat Padgett, secretary; Pat Weiss, treasurer.

National Scout Service Fraternity . . . Evansville College group is the Gamma Mu Chapter. A.P.O. is second only to Phi Beta Kappa in number of chapters. Faculty advisers are Professor Dean Long and Professor A. B. Cope. Motto of the group is Leadership, Friendship, and Service.

Local chapter was organized in April, 1940. With only one member returning to school this year, the chapter pledged and initiated six new members with the help of Professor Dean Long and the scouting advisers. Bill Elmendorf, president, supervised fingerprinting of the student body, a service project in connection with the F.B.I. The group was also responsible for the printing of basketball programs for all home games. The A.P.O.'s brought their year of fun and service to a close with an overnight hike in the spring.

FIGHT, ACES, FIGHT
FIGHT, ACES, FIGHT
FIGHT, ACES FIGHT, ACES
FIGHT! FIGHT! FIGHT!

With only one sport at Evansville College during the 1944-45 term, Coach Emerson Henke took advantage of this fact and centered his coaching skills around basketball, producing one of the best Aces quintets at Evansville in several years.

Coach Henke piloted a draft-riddled squad to ten victories against seven defeats. Mr. Henke is characterized by being cool in pinches and is regarded by all the squad to be a "regular fellow."

He has had no college training for coaching, and is serving as a temporary mentor at Evansville College now. He took over the coaching post in the fall of 1943 after the departure of William Slyker.

A graduate of Evansville College in 1937, Coach Henke was a star forward on the Aces' cage five in his senior year. He received his M.S. degree in accounting and business administration in 1939 from Indiana University. Henke became affiliated with the College in 1940 as an instructor in the Economics Department.

High-scorer Brown adds two more points against Western.

Fast-break Jonesy scores again.

Cheerleaders Fred Shatara, Hazel Overfield, and Harry Levin.

Hit hard by the local draft boards throughout the season, the Evansville College basketball Aces, coached by cool-headed Emerson Henke, exceeded their fans' expectations during the 1944-45 season, as they trumped ten of their seventeen scheduled foes.

With freshmen composing the major part of the squad, twenty-two basketeers reported for the first basketball practice, but after eliminations of all sorts only ten men emerged from the smoke of battle still on the Evansville roster at the close of the season.

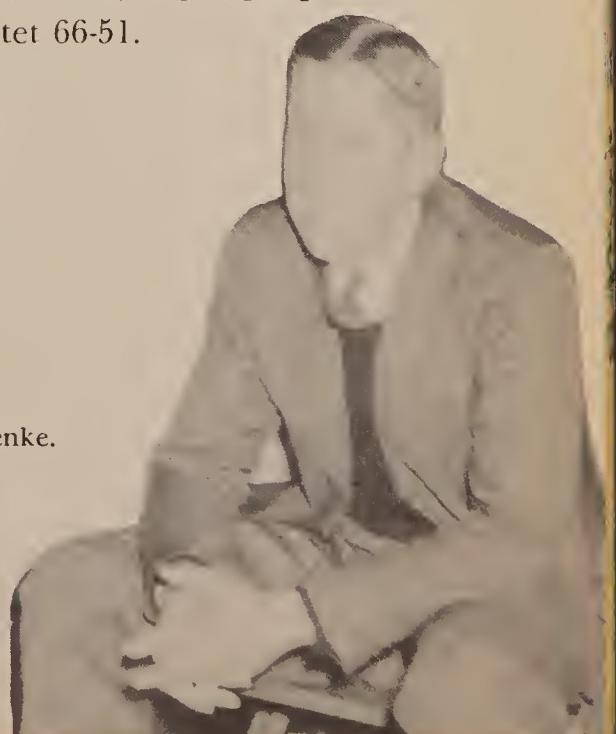

Kentucky schools dominated Evansville's list of opponents, as over half of the Aces' foes — nine — were Kentucky institutions. Two teams from Indiana and Illinois each encountered Coach Henke's lads in home-and-home contests.

At the expense of the neighboring-state George Field Fliers, Evansville kicked the lid off its 1944-45 schedule on the Armory floor with a streamlined attack, and thumped the Cadets, 47-41. The Aces returned the Soldiers' early season call midway of January, and again dropped the Lawrenceville, Illinois, crew. Score of the game: Aces, 61; George Field, 54; Harold Brown, 27.

The Purple and White took its second straight on the Armory floor, when the Henkemen played host to the Georgetown hoopsters for the first time in several years, winning out in a mass attack, 67-39. The Aces trekked to the Kentucky town February 10 and breezed past J. O. Drew's quintet 66-51.

Taking their third successive win in stride, the Aces outbattled the experienced Post Hospital Medics of Camp Breckinridge, 52-28, with Harold Brown at the wheel, scoring 19 tallies. The Kentucky camp visited Evansville again January 24 — this time the Prisoner of War Guardsmen — and found conditions pretty tough, coming out on the short end of a 58-33 score.

On the bench — Coach Henke.

BASKETBALL

Louisville University's Navy-laden team thought the Aces were doing too well, and stopped the Acemen's win streak at three games, after a hard-contested battle, 43-34. The Purple Aces, aching for revenge, journeyed to the Louisville den midway of the season, saw the disadvantage of being short, and were again trimmed, 74-53.

Evansville's first contest with its old rival, Indiana State, was featured by a scoring duel between two top-notch snipers — Harold Brown and Clarence Disney. Despite Disney's 26-point effort, the Aces counted for just a few more than the Sycamores, winning 56-54, in the Aces' fifth straight home tilt. The small giants, however, evened the count at Terre Haute with a 72-53 shellacking.

The Evansvillians were at their worst during the entire season January 10 when they dropped a loosely played game to the Central Normal quintet, 38-26, at Danville. Dick Groben played in his last game before being inducted, while Brown was held to his lowest total of points of the year — 10. The Aces' fifth win was in the books when they socked the Warriors, 44-38, later, in the Armory.

Handing Southern Illinois their second loss of the season in ten starts, the Aces upset the Maroons 53-43, after bowing 68-52 at Carbondale, immediately following the Christmas holidays. Evansville's scoring drive was headed by sensational Brown, who shoved in 25 points, in the Aces' home tilt. Jones and Hauselmire each banged in 10.

One of the biggest successes of the season came February 3 when, before the largest crowd of the cage season, the Purple squad plastered a 45-41 defeat on the nationally known Western Hilltoppers — Evansville's first win over the Toppers since 1939. And Coach Ed Diddle didn't forget his towel. Western, however, responded with a 48-36 win over the Henkemen, the following week, in the Toppers' lair.

Climaxing an exceptionally good season, the Acemen fell before the star-studded Murray Thoroughbreds, 54-42, in a rough and tumble affair. Fresh without the services of regular Bobby Hauselmire, who left for the armed forces, Coach Henke had to do some switching around, which is bad business when playing Coach John Miller's Racehorses. Brown was high for the Aces with 18 points, followed by guard Jim Wellemeyer, who tallied 9 markers.

No seniors were present on the 1944-45 edition of the Aces. Only two experienced men played the entire season for Evansville. They were Harold Brown, junior, who played basketball at Evansville two seasons before, and Cale Englebright, sophomore, who was a letterman on Murray's squad last year. Morgan Jones, Reitz grad, and Jim Wellemeyer, former Holland captain, controlled the guard positions, while Richard Groben, former Reitz captain who left during the season via the draft, held the pivot slot. Switches, with Bob Hauselmire, Bill Hollman, Herb Reller, and Jim Ritter used, were constantly being made in order to fill the gap Groben left.

Probably the most outstanding individual feat of the season was accomplished by Harold Brown who won the State scoring race in the points-per-game department. He tallied 317 points in 17 games, for an average of 18.6 markers per tilt.

DEAN'S LIST

Front Row — Tirmenstein, Hallinan, Helming, M. J. Schmitt, Hyland, Pirtle.

The Dean's List was inaugurated at Evansville College during the summer of 1943 as a means of honoring students with a high scholastic average.

To be included on this list, a student must have made an average of 2.5 for the semester for which the list is given. In figuring the average one point is given for one hour of C work, two points for one hour of B work, and three points for one hour of A work. The number of points are then divided by the number of hours.

Miriam Tirmenstein has been on the Dean's List for four consecutive times. Robert Dimmett has been on the list for three consecutive times, and Bettye Baugh, Patricia Hallinan, and Mary Moss for two consecutive times.

The following thirty-six students were placed on the Dean's List for their average made during the 1944 summer semester:

Grace Baldwin	Clara Edmond	Mary Moss
Bettye Baugh	Margaret Fawcett	Rubylee O'Bryan
Max Bear	Lloyd Fosse	Teckla Petersen
Jack Bedient	Irene Giesecke	Grace Sevringshaus
Donald Biggs	Mildred Goss	Henry Sims
James Bohrer	Ruth Grimm	Margaret Snow
Lorene Branch	Patricia Hallinan	Dorothy Stingle
Carolyn Compton	Leroy Hodapp	Miriam Tirmenstein
Arlene David	Margaret Jarboe	Blanche Veeck
Robert Dimmett	Lucille Lamb	Martha Weikel
Emma Dreisch	Charlotte Lambert	Bettye Winternheimer
Myra Eberhart	Grace Marshall	Iris Winternheimer

Nineteen students were included on the Dean's List the fall semester. They were:

Bettye Baugh	Robb Kell	Fred Stephenson
Robert Dimmett	Francile MacDonald	Anna Freese Thompson
Arden Grudem	Mary Moss	James Tillman
Patricia Hallinan	Joy Lee Mundy	Miriam Tirmenstein
Brenda Helming	Dorothy Pirtle	Peggy Treat
Lois Hyland	Mary Jane Schmitt	Joyce Williams

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

The Evansville College Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha is a chapter of the largest national forensic fraternity in the United States.

Qualifications for membership that must be met are that a student must have participated in at least two years of forensic or public speaking activity, have demonstrated superior ability as a debater or public speaker, and have a high scholastic standing.

The society was founded in 1908 by students and graduates of Indiana universities and colleges.

Pauline Neucks, chapter president, and Dorothy Steiner are student members. Faculty members are Pearle LeCompte, Ralph Olmsted, and Ernest Van Keuren, sponsor.

MU MU MU

Mu Mu Mu is a national honorary radio fraternity, which was organized at Evansville College in 1941. Its originator was Dr. J. Frederick Doering. The national officers are: President, Dr. Doering, now at Ottawa University; Alumni Secretary, Mrs. Irene Baker, Friends University; Secretary-Treasurer, Gertrude Leich, Evansville College.

The local chapter has had its own weekly program, "The Tri Mu Show," broadcast over station WEOA each Monday night throughout the past year.

Officers for the year were: President, Paul Caywood; Vice-Presidents, Betty Lou Baugh, and Marjorie Shelley (second semester); and Secretary-Treasurer, Marilyn E. Miller. Mrs. Shirley Snethen is sponsor.

PI GAMMA MU

Middle Row — Kaetzl, Tirmenstein, Long, McKown.

Requirements are a total of 75 hours, a B or better in all social science subjects, with at least 18 hours completed toward the social science major, 12 hours of which must be of A grade and 6 hours of B.

Pi Gamma Mu endeavors to send out men and women of social idealism, trained in scientific thought and encouraged to help others to be scientific in their thinking on all social questions. At E.C. social science includes sociology, economics, commerce, business administration, political science, history, geography, religion, education, psychology, and philosophy.

The colors are blue and white for truth and light. The motto of the society is the famous epigram of the Master Teacher: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

New members inducted in February are Joy Lee Mundy, Bettye Irons Baugh, Janet Frank, and Fred Stephenson.

Faculty members in Pi Gamma Mu are Lucile Jones, A. B. Cope, George Lewis, G. R. McCoy, Edgar McKown, Dean Long, and Lincoln B. Hale.

PHI BETA CHI

Phi Beta Chi, natural science fraternity, which was organized at Evansville College in 1932, elected seven students and two professors into membership February 14. They were Lloyd Fosse, Pat Nesbit, Jane Bedient, Dorothy Julian, Frances Johnson, Patricia Adams, Bill Elmendorf, Dr. Grace Kimball, and Prof. John Needy. These new members were initiated on March 16.

To belong to this organization, a student must be at least a second-semester junior majoring in a natural science, be nominated by the faculty, have a grade of A in 50 percent of his major and B or better in related subjects, and show creative ability.

The purpose of the society is to give recognition to distinguished students in natural sciences, to stimulate attainment of high standards of excellence in their regular work, to acquaint its members with unsolved problems of science, and to cultivate an interest in investigation.

Jean Lindenschmidt was the only student member on the campus before the new members were admitted this year. She served as president of the organization and Prof. Guy Marchant was secretary-treasurer. Other faculty members are Dr. Donald Dunham, Dr. Harold Bedient, and Dr. Charles Vance.

The qualities which are represented by the seven lighted candles in the seven-branched candelabra on the Evansville College seal are the qualities which determine the choice of the Campus Notables.

These qualities are: Chremata, economic development; Anapausia, recreation; Sophia, intellectual development; Theosebia, spiritual aspiration; Philokalia, artistic appreciation; Koinonia, social fellowship; Hygeia, health.

These are the seven men and women who were chosen by the faculty this year as the students who most represent the ideals of the College crest.

These are the six seniors who have been chosen by the deans of the College as the campus leaders. It may be true that others have been leaders in different realms — in their church, in their own social group — but these six students came to Evansville College and entered into activities to such a degree that they now emerge as its leaders.

The activities of these students during their years at E.C. have been varied, yet they have maintained a high standard of scholarship. It is their example we must follow if we are to profit most from our college life and are to likewise develop to the greatest extent our personality and ability to lead.

*Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the many events at college this year.
Hardly a man who is now alive
Would dare forget forty-four and -five.
Just look at the calendar and you shall see
How deep so many mem'ries can be.*

SEPTEMBER

With one eye on the present and the war and the other on the future, our future, we entered the halls of old E.C. September 18, rarin' to go. The Development Program had us planning for $360,000 in future subscriptions. Frosh activities were begun and the school was in full swing. Something new had been added when Frau Kolb, Ivories Marty, Clarinet-tootin' McLaughlin, Little Doc Kimball, and H-m-m-m-m Ryan were added to the faculty women. The Y.W.C.A. gave forth with a "Walkie Talkie" Little Sister party and then there were more frosh activities. But the party of all parties was the all-campus "Shindig." The students roared when the pros put on their skit. Zinderella LeCompte, Maggie Stieler, Romeo McKown, and "He's Just a Little Ray of Sunshine" Cope are destined for Broadway success. Then more frosh activities. It ain't amusin' — it's confusin'.

OCTOBER

Thirty-one days are not enough; time flies; and here we are trying to get all the dates in — With the man-power shortage?? Joke. The Hales entertained with the Student-Faculty Reception. Doc Vance said that the roses were green but the punch was really pure fruit juice. All those hard-working summer studes were honored when the Dean's List was announced — Some brains. Another new feature — fall rush parties. Sigs were Russian at Dorothy Julian's, Thetas progressed with a Dagwood-Blondie progressive dinner, the Castys at Wright's went back to the gay nineties, Phi Zetas got into the swim of things at the Y.M.C.A., and the Philos trekked to the wrestling matches. The telephone booth was painted a deep fuchsia and startled our stomachs into a long period of indigestion. Urged on by a day off, the college crew drove the War Chest drive up about $1,837. The run of society assemblies began with the Castalian dramatization of the habits of the weaker sex. Evansville College saw October out in a trail of glory when twelve of its students were named to Who's Who.

NOVEMBER

"Drammer" groups, Tri Mu and Thespians, got together for a Tea. Corn was abundant in more assemblies. Spook DeLong (Gracie to you) put some chills into the Sig Fishpond tale, and the Thetas' Veracity or Consequences caught Dr. McKown chasing a chicken with salt and Prof. Long giving away those size ten shoes. Pledge dinners added formality to the scene while the Sadie Hawkins' party put Little Willie on the spot. A dedication ceremony on the 27th and the laying of the Engineering and Science cornerstone brought into reality our dreams of a bigger college. Peg Treat as sponsor was a treat for the eyes. With a 47-41 win over George Field, the Aces opened their basketball season in grand style. By this time the telephone booth was changed to a chocolate brown. On the 24th the Phi Zetas chose Pat Smith as their Frat Sweetheart. Tri Mu was assured the honor of being the Alpha Chapter. Not to be outdone the Gamma Delta Assembly presented the freshman talent for approval — we did. But the lazy Sophomores were not making them suffer at all — not a single green rhinie pot to be seen.

DECEMBER

Dreaming of a white Christmas, we began December in great style. On the 10th Miss LeCompte and the Thespians and Mrs. Shepard and the Choir made the traditional Eager Heart presentation a huge success, and the Senior Class supper which followed gave the gals reason to worry about the relationship of calories to the waistline. All three sororities had a get-together in an intersociety supper held at the Co-ed Lounge. Pep sessions were peped up by the antics of Hevron and Ritter. (What does Hope have that these guys do not — except, of course, good jokes?) "Chicago, here we come!" was the cry of the debate squad and the old burg really was red after they painted it. What do you know? Just for something different, more parties for the freshmen were given. Gamma Deltas were entertained by the Castalians with a Night before Christmas party, by the Thetas with Mother Goose as hostess, and by the Sigs with a Dude Ranch affair. Come the 16th, we were out the door with a rush for freedom — Vacation until January 5.

JANUARY

Back to the grindstone — but the place didn't seem the same without Morlock and his Oh-so-interesting pathology class. Anauta from Baffin Isle baffled the gang with her facts about how not to speak of Eskimos. And still the draft is on — the Aces lost Groben and Griffith to Uncle Sam, but the team played on. Tiny Hilda Benson set the W.S.S.F. drive off with a bang and the auction of the faculty netted $86. Why not with Dunham and Van Keuren for coke dates? Or Ryan at the movies? I'll take a slice of either! Society elections occupied the spotlight for some time but then all was dwarfed by the thoughts of the immediate future — Exam Week!

FEBRUARY

Short but sweet, well, except for the finals, a new month rolled around. Y.W. girls served tea to all worn studes during the struggle, but even that was not enough consolation for the Blue Book fever. More tea was poured when the Student Christian Association entertained in honor of Ralla Ram from India. Studes are still wondering about the functioning of those tight white pants. Registration! The plague of white cards! A Homecoming and Gamma Delta Dance was combined and Dot Steiner was crowned queen of the Basketball team, and they all took advantage of their positions! "Cradle Song" by the Thespians added another hit to their long list. Our Aces ended the season with a total of ten wins and seven losses. Rush season was a big headache for rushees and rushers. The season was opened with a club Castalia at the Empire Room of the Vendome. Next the Sigs entertained with the punch down on the Plantation in the Continental Room of the Vendome. Thetas honored Washington with a dinner at the Empire Room. The Phi Zetas again journeyed to the Y.M. and the Philos put on the feed at the Co-ed Lounge. And a good time was had by all. Pledging followed and then February went out with a bang, as all the back pounding would evidence.

MARCH

With a muddy future, March waded into E.C. There were rumors of a forced vacation because of the water, but no such luck. First thing on the docket was the pledge dinners. My how these freshmen can eat. Not to be forgotten too easily, Hell Week came in all its glory. Back Bloomers, burlap, and onions did little to further higher education. And they all lived happily ever after. By this time we had suffered through a buff and now an apple-green telephone booth. Dr. Jones visited the campus and gave the studes a boost. Phi Beta Chi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Tau Kappa Alpha announced the more honored, and weren't we proud! And still "Flash Bulb" Olmsted snapped them. Aces were honored at the Basketball Banquet — the Navy even let Groben come back to E.C. for the feed.

APRIL

Easter was ushered in and the month began in proper style. Practice teachers were in the middle of their misery and students were misery in the middle when they took midsemesters. Sponsored by the Y.W. an all-campus book drive brought in some weighty material for the prisoners of war. The Merchant Marine was considerably reinforced by the crews of E.C. men to enter. And Henke is still wondering whether to enlist or wait for the Infantry to come after him. The Sigs and the Faculty bowling teams are neck and neck in the final stretch of the bowling race.

MAY

Still disputing whether or not there were to be spring formals, the societies moved onward. Y.W. breakfast gives food for all in a gay atmosphere. May Day festivities added a gala note to the year due to the efforts of Miss Stieler and the Women's Council. Then came the race. The headaches came in the usual bloody elections. Politics reigned and the battle was furious. More notables gained with the naming of the Campus Notables. That's our gang!

JUNE

Now's the time. Senior activities — Senior class day even down to the traditional planting of the tree and giving of the gift. Finals were over and a few brave souls are talking of summer school. The Seniors held the attention again with their services and Evansville College has once more given society its best (It says here).

"I thank my lucky stars I picked Servel... it's so silent"

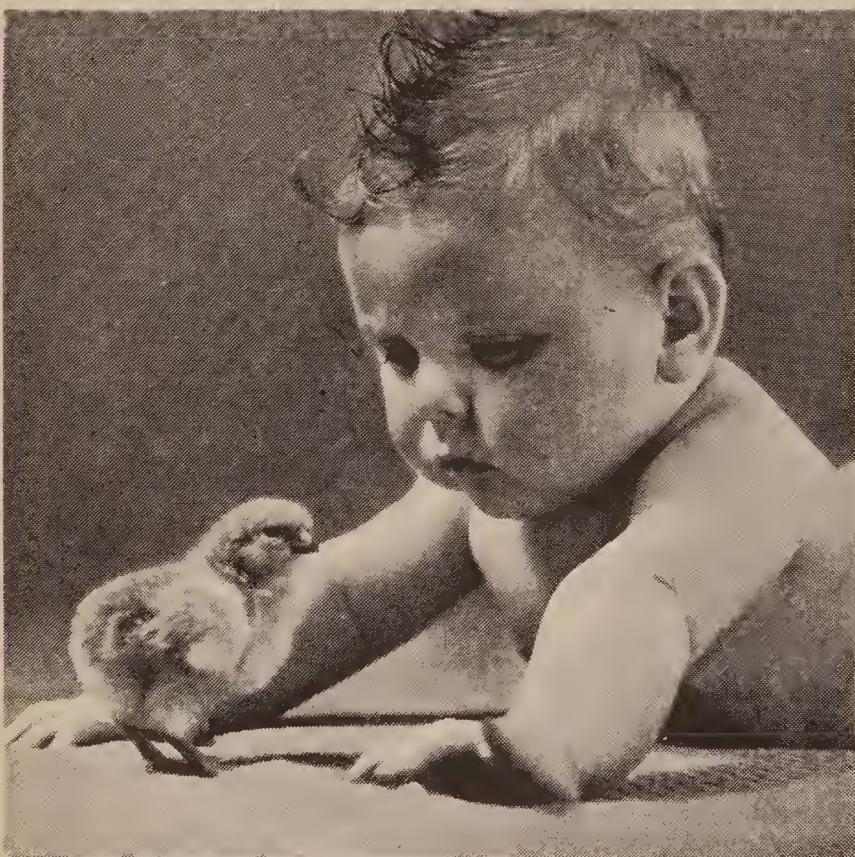

says Hedda Hopper famous Hollywood commentator

Miss Hopper gets around in Hollywood. She says it was what she heard that made her decide on a Servel Gas Refrigerator. "Servel's different—it never makes a sound. Never gives a moment's trouble, either." And two million other owners feel the same way about the only refrigerator that has no moving parts in its freezing system to wear or get noisy.

If you're one of the many folks who tell us they'd like to switch to Servels right now, we've got to say "sorry." Our plant is 100% on war work. The refrigerators we have made go to the Army and Navy, because Servel is the one refrigerator that will operate anywhere. After the war, we plan to make more of them than ever... more attractive ones, too.

There'll be new home comforts coming off the Servel line, too. The Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioner is one of them. It will heat your home in winter, cool it in summer, provide just the right amount of humidity for health. Hundreds of these systems are already on test in homes throughout the country... and winning praise everywhere.

See your Gas Company for the announcement of new Servel products after the war. That's where the Gas Refrigerator that "stays silent and lasts longer" was introduced. And that's where you can get help today in planning home improvements for the future. Meanwhile, start saving for the things you want—buy War Bonds and Stamps.

As we start on the highway of 1944, we find the signposts pointing in one direction — Victory! True, the way is difficult, but the destination is clearly marked. INDIVIDUALLY SELECTED and CREATED

A POST-GRADUATE COURSE

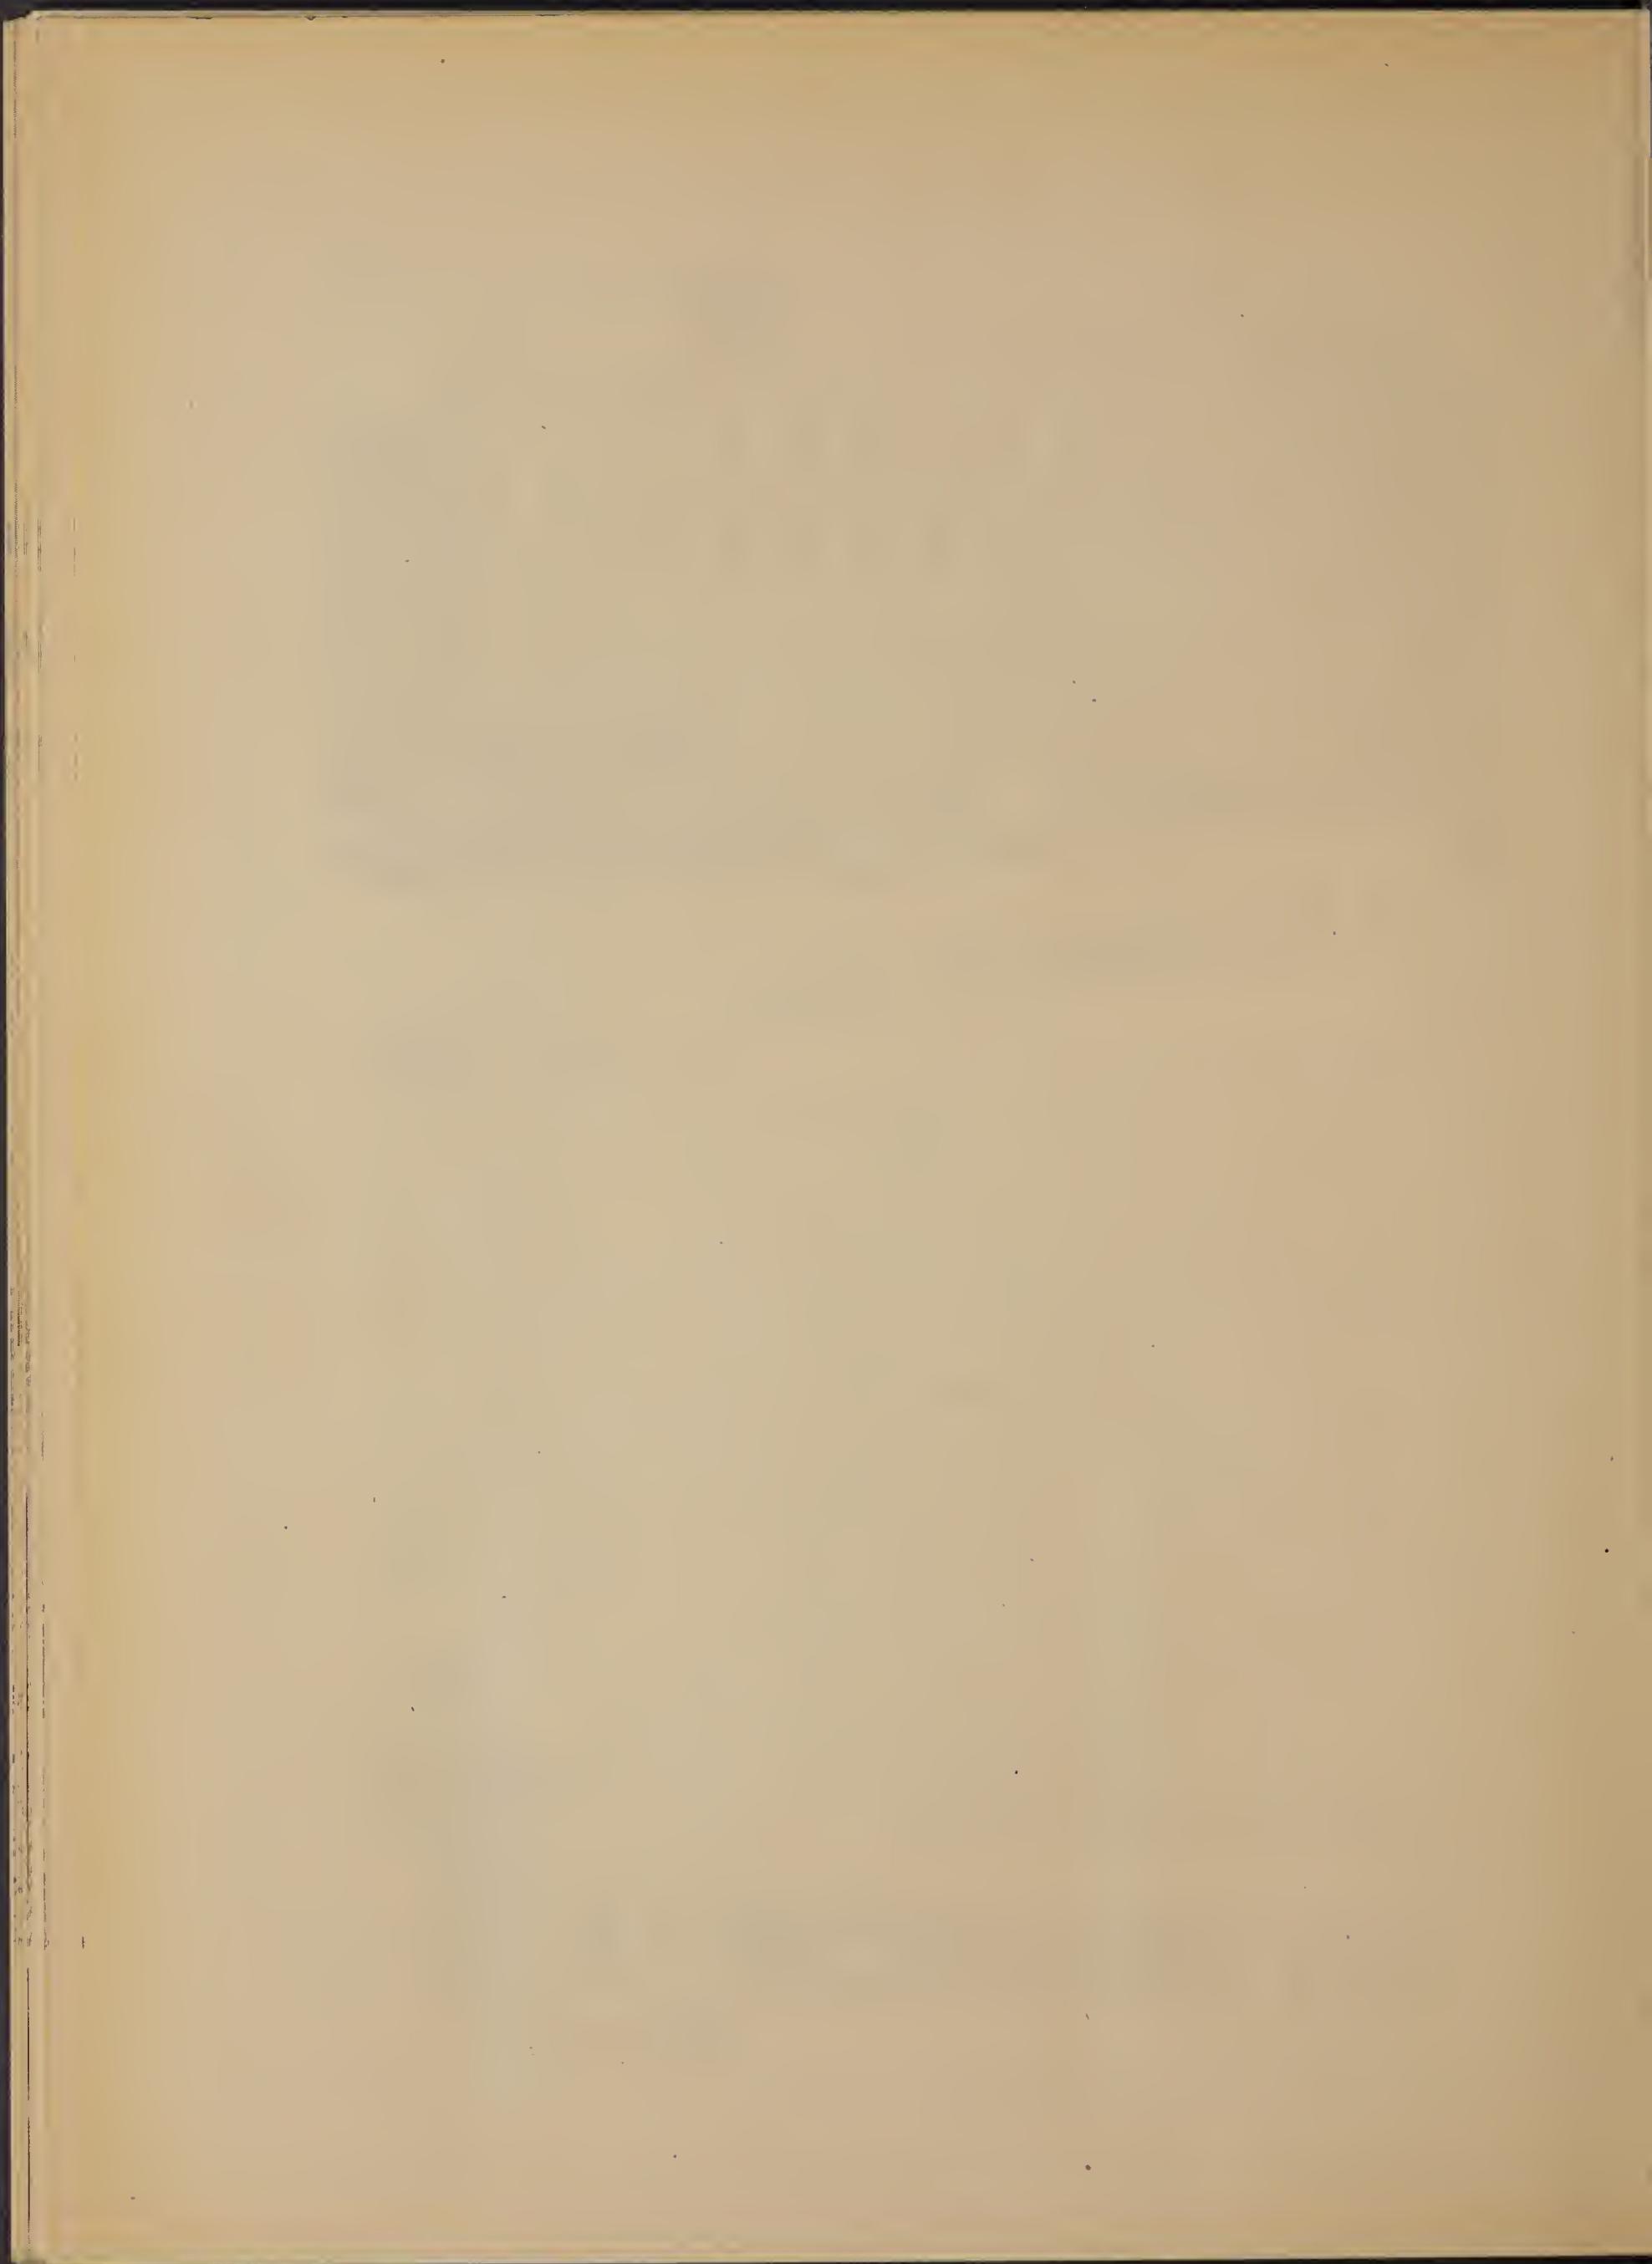

This is a good lesson to learn now for use later. The printed word that is the backbone of modern education . . . the printed picture that preserves your memories of college days . . . are also the instruments of professions, of management, of administration. In fact, wherever you go from here, you'll have use — and need — for these instruments. When you do, choose them well. Judge them as you have your college. Pick the institution that can give you complete, correlated, tested results. As an institution of creative printing, Keller-Crescent combines a complete co-ordinated graphic arts service under one roof, one responsibility. Obviously, its correlation of creation and production makes Keller-Crescent not only the best source of quality in printing, (witness your "LINC" this year), but also of economy. Keep that in mind. It might make you a genius with the new boss who hasn't yet discovered our way of doing things.
